

North Carolina Cooperative Extension, Ashe County Center

Bull Breeding Soundness Exam

March 25, 2017
Beginning 10:00 a.m.
$40.00 (pay day of event)
Southern States

The advantage of having your bull tested is to ensure that he is physically able to service your herd. You also need to confirm that his reproductive organs and sperm are healthy and sound. I encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity so that you do not have to wait until the end of the season to discover that your cows did not get bred.

Please call the North Carolina Cooperative Extension, Ashe County Center at (336) 846-5850 to reserve your slot.

North Carolina Cooperative Extension, Ashe County Center will be hosting a Breeding Soundness Exam for the bulls of all interested Ashe County Cattle Producers on March 25, 2017 from 10:00 a.m. until finished (20 minute slots, call now to reserve your slot— (336) 846-5850). The cost is $40.00 per bull and payment will be accepted by cash or check only (no debit or credit cards will be accepted). Bulls will also be vaccinated and de-wormed free of charge!

Scheduled Time Slots
(336) 846-5850

Sponsored by Zoetis and Southern States

Persons with disabilities and persons with limited English proficiency may request accommodations to participate by contacting Carolyn Shepherd, County Extension Director, at (336) 846-5850 or carolyn_shepherd@ncsu.edu or in person at the County Extension Office at least five days prior to the event. North Carolina State University and North Carolina A&T State University commit themselves to positive action to secure equal opportunity regardless of race, color, creed, national origin, religion, sex, age, veteran status or disability. In addition, the two Universities welcome all persons without regard to sexual orientation. North Carolina State University, North Carolina A & T State University, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and local governments cooperating.